1. Overview: Delta's Refund Policy on Taxes and Fees

Delta Airlines understands that not every journey goes as planned. Whether your flight was canceled, rescheduled, or you simply can't travel, you may be entitled to a refund of the taxes and certain service fees that were part of your ticket purchase.

Here's what you need to know:

Taxes and fees such as U.S. transportation taxes, airport improvement fees, and security charges are refundable when the flight isn't taken.

Refunds apply to both refundable and non-refundable fares as long as no portion of the ticket has been used.

If you booked through a travel agent or third-party site, you may need to request your refund through them first.

 For immediate refund assistance, contact Delta's support desk at +1 \(877\) 394-5034.

2. When Delta Refunds Taxes on Canceled Tickets

Delta typically refunds taxes and fees in the following scenarios:

A. Refundable Tickets

If you purchased a refundable ticket, you can cancel your flight and receive a full refund, including the base fare and all taxes. The process is automatic if canceled through Delta's website.

✓ B. Non-Refundable Tickets

For non-refundable fares, you won't get back the ticket cost — but you can still claim a refund for unused government taxes and airport fees.

Example: If you booked a non-refundable ticket and canceled it before travel, the security fee, segment fee, and airport facility charge are often refunded upon request.

To initiate your refund, call [(800) 321-6262 +1 (877) 394-5034] and speak with a Delta refund representative.

✓ C. Delta-Canceled Flights

When Delta cancels or significantly changes your flight schedule, passengers can choose between:

- A full cash refund, or

- An eCredit for future travel.

In both cases, applicable taxes are returned to you.

✓ D. Duplicate or Overcharged Taxes

Sometimes, duplicate fees are charged during multi-leg bookings. Delta corrects such errors automatically or upon request.

7. Understanding the Types of Refundable Taxes

When you cancel a ticket, only certain taxes can be refunded. These may include:

U.S. Transportation Tax (7.5%)

Passenger Facility Charge (PFC)

U.S. September 11th Security Fee ($5.60 per flight segment)

International Arrival/Departure Taxes

Foreign Airport or Customs Fees

These are government-imposed charges, not Delta's revenue, so when travel doesn't occur, these amounts are usually refundable.
